WEDNESDAY JULY 27.

The Ohio republican convention is now in session at Toledo.

The reasons are as plenty as blackberries why the democrats will loose the elections this fall, and why they will take to the bushes next year.

The Grand Army will have vacated St. Louis by the time the president gets ready to come west, and then he can enter the city without fear of meeting the soldier boys.

Nine hundred and fifty women in Iowa own and manage farms, and twenty, dairy farms. The Iowa woman proposes to keep the pot boiling some way.

The Chicago papers are publishing the portraits of some of the witnesses in the boodle trial. If the witnesses look anything like the portraits, they should be convicted of complicity in the boodle business.

There would be some hope for the democracy if it would favor the retention of the tax on whisky and put sugar on the free list. Free sugar and a heavy taxed whisky, is an idea that has common sense and justice in it.

F. A. Sawyer, a $1,400 clerk in Washington, was at one time a United States senator from South Carolina, and once filled the position of Assistant Secretary of the Treasury. Mr. Sawyer now realizes that he would better have left politics alone.

It will be plainly noticed that the nearer the campaign of 1888 approaches, the less attention the president will pay to offensive partisanship in office-holders. In fact, about this time next year he will smile to see the offensive partisans go in for all they are worth—to elect Mr. Cleveland.

During a thunder and rain storm Monday at Pierre, Dakota, Charles Hunt took his family into a cyclone cellar and went to take a last look at the storm. While at the window he was struck by lightning and killed. A hole as large as a pea was found in his head; all his bones were melted and his body had turned perfectly black.

Curtis & Atkinson, E. F. & W. S. Ikard, big Texas cattle firms, and the Henrietta, Texas, National Bank, have failed. The failed firms have immense ranches in Texas. The debts are $450,000 with estimated assets of double that amount. They have business connections at the Chicago Stock Yards, and some Stock Yards houses lose largely by the failure.

Mme. Nordica, the young and popular Maine singer, hardly knows whether she is a widow or not. Her husband, Mr. Gower, was the joint inventor of the Gower-Bell telephone, which brought him an immense fortune. A few years ago he was experimenting with some balloon engineers when the balloon sailed away with him and has not since been heard from.

Mrs. Ella Wheeler Wilcox says in The New Haven Palladium: "It is true that we are to leave our Meriden home as soon as I am strong enough to travel to some seaport resort. Our new location for the fall has not yet been decided upon. We have no idea of going west, and I do not even contemplate a visit there this summer. It is true that in my early residence in the east I thought the people cold and unsympathetic. I missed the warm and demonstrative affection which in the land of my birth my western friends had shown for me; but I never had the egotism to say or think that my literary attainments were not appreciated here. I have, on the contrary, felt for several years that the public at large overestimated me intellectually—a fact I still believe to be painfully true. During the last month of severe illness and extreme trial the warm sympathy, tender solicitude and overwhelming kindness which the people of Meriden have exhibited to me and mine make me thoroughly ashamed that I ever thought them cold or indifferent. It is a misfortune that unwise words can never be unsaid—we can only regret having uttered them."

REVIEW OF THE CROPS.

The Chicago Farmers' Review publishes the following summary: While local rains in some localities have come in the nick of time to keep the corn crop, our reports this week indicate that drought has lowered the average condition of the drop in almost all of the states reporting. The winter wheat yield, according to the reports of our correspondents, is as follows: Sixteen counties in Illinois have an average of 16½ bushels. Ten Indiana counties, 16 2-3 bushels. Ten counties in Missouri, 19 1-3 bushels. Fourteen counties in Ohio, 15½ bushels. Eleven Kansas counties, 14 bushels. The average condition of spring wheat in the different states is as follows: Eleven counties in Iowa report an average condition of 66 per cent. Floyd and Buchanan counties report a total destruction of the crop by chinch bugs, and more or less damage has been done by these in Allamakee, Bremer, Dubuque, Franklin, Ida, Keokuk and Palo Alto counties. Eight Minnesota counties report the average condition of their spring wheat crop at 77 per cent. Damage by chinch bugs has been done in Anoka, Benton, Dodge, Scott and Washington counties, and by drouth in Benton, Clay, Kandiyohi and Wadena counties. Nine counties in Nebraska report an average condition for the crop of 94 per cent. Some damage has been done by bugs and drouth. Six Wisconsin counties report their verage as low as 33.3 per cent, damage by chinch bugs having been severe. Eight counties in Dakota place the average condition at 93 per cent, and no complaints of damage by insects. The condition of the corn crop as reported from the different states is good. Eighteen counties in Illinois place it at an average of 85 per cent, and nearly all require rain for the crop.

HOW TO BOOM A CAMPAIGN.

There are a good many people just now who have an eye on Robert T. Lincoln for the presidency. The Blaine boom may go on, and Sherman may be endorsed by Ohio, and yet there is a significant looking toward Mr. Lincoln. He is not in the field as a candidate, and indeed he has said that he would not permit his name to go before the convention, but all that matters nothing. A question like that is in the hands of the people, and Robert Lincoln will have very little to say whether his name shall go before the convention or not.

Should there be a failure to nominate Mr. Blaine, which at this time seems hardly probable, Mr. Lincoln would doubtless be the second choice of the convention. The indications point to this conclusion. It would boom the campaign immensely, if he were nominated, to organize in all the states clubs called "Lincoln Hirelings." It would revive a spirit of loyal enthusiasm in the northern states which would sweep the country. The prestige crowning the name of Lincoln would simply mean victory. The "Hirelings" would be the wide-awakes of 1860. The spirit of the father would prove to be the spirit of the son.

Robert Lincoln is a man of rare good sense, and this means very much in these times of so many loose political methods. He has the "horse sense" of his father and likewise his splendid integrity. He made a distinguished record as secretary of war. His executive ability displayed in that responsible office, attracted the attention of the country, and his name was made stronger thereby. His public life has been so thoroughly clean and otherwise commendable that a campaign with his name at the head of the republican national ticket, would be bereft of malice and slander.

These things are being taken into account by thousands of people all over the land, and hence the name of Lincoln stands next to Blaine in the coming contest.

WHY HORSES SHY.

The Prevalence of Cataract Causes Defective Vision.

I have never met a veterinary surgeon who knew anything about "cataract of the eye" in horses, says an old horseman. I call it that as it is an expressive term. The trouble is the most general of any now affecting the horses of this country. It is the cause of nearly all if not all, of the shying which surgeons fail to find a reason for except in "general cussedness." This cataract is a brown growth, of a fungus nature, that spreads over the pupil of the eye, from the top downwards. It has the appearance of a sponge growing away from its hold. It is difficult to see unless strong daylight falls upon the horse's eye exactly right. Then it can be seen plainly, a silent evidence of the animal's defective eyesight. I have examined horse after horse and with but two or three exceptions out of about fifty I have found their eyesight thus affected. Of course it is worse in some than in others. It grows just like a cataract or cancer; at first just dawning ominously on the upper edge of the pupil, then gradually extending itself. I have watched it expand on my own horse and its growth has been very marked in even the short time of two years. I have observed one thing about it that makes me certain that my conclusions are correct. Every shying horse I have examined has, without exception, been so afflicted. Never have I seen a horse shy whose eye was not clouded by this inexplicable growth. I began to study this curious defect after a long experience in trying to break my spirited horse from shying. I took him to dozens of veterinary surgeons, but they all said it was his cussedness. I used the whip and tried in every way to break him of it, but I could not. Now I remember how curiously he cocked his head at a suspicious object just as a person with poor sight will try to get a better focus. Finally one day the light happened to strike his eye right and I saw the cataract. The whole thing was plain to me then. I have studied the matter since, though I have never seen anything published about this prevailing effect. If anything has ever been published about it, and if any reason can be advanced, I should like to hear of it. Whether it is because of the barbarous and cruel blinds which, by shutting out the ligh and causing the animal to look forward instead of sideways, affect his eyes, or whether it is because of dark stalls, I cannot tell. But I am sure it is the cause of all the shying and much of the stumbling that now make driving and riding so unpleasant and dangerous.

Riot at a Wedding.

BRAZIL, Ind., July 27.—A wedding in a settlement of Austrian miners at Carbon last night ended in a drunken fight in which pistols were freely used. John Ross was shot in the head, and is reported dead. Two or three others were shot or badly hurt, though not fatally. Dr. J. E. Nutt was found on the street at daybreak with his skull crushed with a coupling pin. He is yet unconscious and may die. Deputy Sheriff Hislop and Policeman Osborn left for Carbon this morning with warrants for the arrest of Thomas Edwards, John Morgan, Thomas Resser, and John Ryan, but all but John Morgan had "skipped."

Two Brothers Suicide.

DECATUR, Ill., July 27.—Jess O. Simpson, who committed suicide at Quincy, Ill., last Sunday, was buried here this evening. During the funeral a telegram was received saying that Mark Simpson, brother of the dead man, had shot himself dead at Carl Junction, Mo. His body will be brought here.

The Old Folks at Home

Or elsewhere, need a tonic now and then to sustain them under growing infirmities. No safer or more thorough invigorant for age and the delicate can be found than Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a seasonable medicine in those ailments of commonest occurrence—liver complaint, indigestion and bowel disorders; a pure botanic safeguard against malaria, and a reliable means of counteracting rheumatism. To the convalescent it is a valuable aid in the recovery of strength, and to the debilitated, nervous invalid it yields tranquil slumber and renewed appetite—two prime factors in the restoration of vigor. Being of purely botanic origin it is free from those objections urged against mineral remedies difficult or impossible of assimilation by the system, and which impair the tone of the stomach, which the Bitters, on the contrary, strengthens and regulates. It is indorsed and prescribed by the medical fraternity.

NORTHWESTERN TORNADO

DESTRUCTION IN MINNESOTA AND DAKOTA TOWNS.

Big Blaze at Minneapolis—Two Suffocated in a Well—Freight Wreck—Casualties.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., July 27.—The storm of last night was unusually severe and destructive in Dakota and Minnesota. At Moorhead, Minn., the wind reached about eighty miles an hour. An unfinished roundhouse was blown down and the court-house uncofed. Ten miles northeast, at Buffalo River, the schoolhouse, three dwellings, and many barns and granaries were wrecked. Mr. Lee, his wife, and boy were all bruised and cut. The foundry at Fargo was wrecked, also the brick depot of the Milwaukee road, and many stores and dwellings were unroofed. At Leonard, Dak., the hail damaged the crops, and the wife of Mr. Eckelson Thompson was killed by the lightning. At Rapid City, Dak., hail covered the ground to the depth of four inches and did $10,000 damage. A freight train was struck by lightning, killing forty mules in one car. In the town of Moland, near Glyndon, Minn., the wind blew down the houses of S. O. Lee, William Lloyd, Knuth Evenson, and Ole Knuttson, also several barns and granaries. There were five persons wounded by the falling buildings; S. O. Lee, aged 30, right leg badly cut; Mrs. G. O. Lee, aged 31, badly bruised about the head and chest, right eyeball lacerated, and concussion of the brain; Martin Lee, aged 35, right collar bone fractured and severe flesh wounds on body and limbs, also internal injuries; John Doyle, several flesh wounds; Ole Knuttson, badly bruised by falling timbers. Mrs. Lee will die.

A Quarter of a Million in Smoke.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., July 27.—Fire broke out in the top story of the Morrison building, a seven-story structure, corner of Washington and Second avenues south, at 9 last evening. The flames soon gained such headway that the department was unable to do much save confine them to the one building. The first floor was occupied by the Big Boston clothing house with a stock of $100,000. It was badly damaged by water, and is insured for $75,000. The Franklin Bazaar occupied the basement and remaining seven stories with a stock valued at $110,000. Of this, it is estimated that $20,000 would be saved. The insurance was $40,000. The building owned by Dorilus Morrison cost $50,000; insured for $15,000. The Morse building adjoining was damaged $8,000; insurance unknown. L. Paulloy, showcase manufacturer, had $10,000 stock, which is a total loss, with insurance of $7,000. Other inmates lost $2,000 worth of fixtures, etc. The origin of the fire is unknown.

Fatal Freight Wreck in Illinois.

CARMI, Ill., July 27.—The first section of freight train No. 67, on the Louisville & Nashville, was wrecked this side of Wabash station, eight miles from here, Tuesday afternoon. The engine jumped the track, ran about fifty feet, and overturned on Al Yearwood, the fireman, causing instant death. John H. Burns, flagman, received severe injuries on the forehead, and his left arm was badly hurt. Henry Craft, the brakeman, had his neck and back badly sprained and his knee fractured. The engineer escaped uninjured. A too high rate of speed is the supposed cause of the accident.

Two Killed by Black Damp.

SPRING VALLEY, Ill., July 27.—Monday Mr. Bloom lost his life going into a well filled with black-damp to fix a pump. A second man, a Mr. Paterson, volunteered to go down and bring him up. He, too, was overcome and fell dead on the corpse of the first man. Before the bodies could be recovered a fan had to be procured and the gas blown out. The utmost excitement prevailed in town and a reward of $50 was offered for the recovery of the bodies.

Died From His Injuries.

ISHPEMING, Mich., July 27.—August A. Anderson, ex-Sheriff of Marquette county, and a man prominent in business and mining circles, died at his residence here this morning from injuries received in a runaway on Thursday last. Mr. Anderson was Sheriff six years. He was one of the discoverers of the Buffalo mine at Negaunee, and owned the principal jewelry store in this city. He leaves three children, one married, and a comfortable fortune to his family.

Killed on an Elevator.

QUINCY, Ill., July 27.—Tuesday morning J. L. Little, foreman of the Quincy Metal Wheel works, and Angus Prettyman, an employe, were on the elevator, which was loaded with iron. On reaching the third floor the rope broke, and they fell with the elevator to the basement. Little's neck was broken, Prettyman had an arm broken and received other injuries that will probably prove fatal. The elevator was an old-style freight concern, without safety clasps.

A New York Town Flooded.

BINGHAMPTON, N. Y., July 27.—The town of Deposit is flooded. The rains of last night and this morning caused the creeks to rise rapidly. All the small bridges have been swept away, and big streams are pouring through Main street, preventing access to many stores and doing much damage. The water is two feet deep all around the depot and railroad buildings. Much further damage is feared.

Killed in a Runaway.

ADRIAN, Mich., July 27.—Mrs. Peleg Bailey was thrown from a buggy by a runaway horse last evening and died soon after from the injuries she received.

The McCoy Trial About Finished.

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio, July 27.—Tuesday's work about completed the evidence in the McCoy case. The witnesses for the defense examined were Mrs. James McCoy, Joseph McCoy, Thomas McCoy, and Ida Wicks. All corroborated Alf and James McCoy's testimony. Charley Ault and another witness were produced by the State to prove that the statement of McCoy's witnesses in regard to Northup or Ault having a revolver at the time of the killing was erroneous. Witnesses were also brought forward by the State to contradict the testimony of Morris Allman.

A Carpenters' Strike Ordered.

CHICAGO, July 27.—The Executive Committee of the Carpenters' Brotherhood met last evening to discuss the advisability of ordering a strike among the portion of the Union men who are not able to induce their employers to come to Union terms. A large number of the members of the various branches of the brotherhood throughout the city are working nine hours, some are receiving less than 35 cents an hour, and many are working on jobs with scabs. There was a full attendance of the committee last evening and a protracted session was held. The merits of the strike question were carefully considered and a resolution ordering a strike was adopted with but a few dissenting votes. Out of the total 5,000 carpenters in the union from one to two thousand have been ordered out to-day. The working carpenters will be assessed $2 a week for the support of the strikers. The men will be sustained in their effort to secure that which, under union ethics, they deem their rights until they are victorious, or till the working carpenters become tired of paying their weekly assessments. There is some feeling among the carpenters who will have to pay for the support of the strikers on account of the size of the assessment. A $1 assessment the kickers deem heavy enough at this time, in view of the recent conclusion of the bricklayers' strike, which caused carpenters to lose time and money.

Stabbed at Camp Lincoln.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., July 27.—Private Samuel McLaughlin of Woodstock, company G, was stabbed in the groin at Camp Lincoln last midnight by R. O. Smith of the same company and town. Smith was the subject of a practical joke. While lying on his blanket in his tent some of his comrades blackened his face. This enraged him greatly, and when another squad was marching by his tent later in the night he supposed the men were those who had tormented him, and grasping his gun with bayonet fixed made a blind lunge, striking McLaughlin in the groin and severing an artery. The wounded man was removed to St. John's hospital, where he lies in a critical condition. Col. Lawler appointed a court of inquiry to sit at 9 o'clock to-day, as follows: Major Frank Lohr, First Lieut. W. W. Stillman of Company I, and Capt. W. T. Reeves of Company D. The culprit will be handed over by Adjt.-Gen. Vance to the civil authorities.

A Canadian Embezzler Indicted.

CHICAGO, July 27.—The Grand Jury yesterday returned a new indictment against Adelard de Ligoro Parent, the defaulting cashier of the Banque d'Hochelaga, of Montreal, Canada, who is said to have stolen $47,000 from that institution in June last. He came to Chicago with $22,000 of the stolen money. The former indictment, which was found against him last June, charged him with bringing $22,000 of the stolen money into the State. The indictment presented yesterday, however, charges him, in different counts, with embezzlement, receiving stolen property, bringing stolen property into the State, knowing the same to have been stolen, and larceny. The State will attempt to prove that the money brought into this State was the money stolen from the bank, although exchanged for United States currency after the theft. It is said that this will be the first instance in any court in this country where such proof has been attempted.

BOODLERS AND BOODLE.

FURTHER TESTIMONY AS TO COOK COUNTY ROTTENNESS.

Bipper on the Stand—How the Grocery Contract was Let—Anent McGarigle.

CHICAGO, July 27.—Fred W. Bipper, ex-meat contractor for Cook county, was put on the stand Tuesday in the boodle trial. Bipper told a long and sensational story of how contracts were awarded, naming the different amounts paid to the different commissioners as the price of the contracts. Bipper was the paymaster, so to speak, for the boodlers. The money from the various contracts was given to him and he divided it among the commissioners. In spunking of the meat and milk contracts Bipper said Commissioner Leyden told him, he and Heissler & Junge could respectively have them, provided they put up $1,000 each.

"At what time did you become the agent of the commissioners to collect this money?" asked the attorney.

"That was the first year that I acted in that capacity."

"How long did you continue to act in that capacity?"

"Until I got my next contract. The contractors went around in the usual way, looking for the good will of the commissioners, and then it was reported to me how much they were to 'put up.'"

"Did the money for the commissioners go through your hands?"

"Yes, sir."

"Did you play fairly?"

"Yes, sir."

"I mean did you divide according to the agreement?"

"I did."

"Who were the sub-contractors?"

"Kee & Chappell and Heissler & Junge."

"Whom did you pay? Did you pay Nieson?"

"Yes. Eight hundred dollars."

"P. A. MacDonald?"

"Four hundred and thirty-seven dollars, I think."

"Leyden?"

"Yes. Eleven thousand and two hundred dollars."

"What! How did you come to pay him that sum?"

"He told me the boys had to have a meeting, and they must come to him to get the money."

"In other words he took your place as a disbursing agent?"

"I guess so."

Elisha A. Robinson, grocer, was put on the stand. After a few preliminary statements relative to his acquaintance with defendants, he said he began furnishing the county with groceries in 1883.

"Moritz Wasserman, he said, "called upon me at my store and asked me to furnish the county with a small bill of groceries, which I did. Some time during the middle of August Moritz Wasserman, who, by the way, is Mike's brother, called upon me and told me that if I continued to furnish the county with goods I would have to pay 10 per cent., and on Aug. 24, 1883, he came around again and wanted to know if I had a package for him. I told him that I had, and gave him an envelope containing the 10 per cent. we had agreed upon previously. My dealing with Michael ended, and then Adam Ochs came around. His first visit was in May, 1885. My payments to him were as follows: May 1, $581; May 11, $565.12; June 12, $527.38; July 8, $469.30; Aug. 8, $117.88; Sept. 5, $487.50; Oct. 9, $648.15; Oct. 20, $846.52; Nov. 19, $530; Dec. 31, $568.34. These payments represent 12 per cent. of my bills."

"How was it you began to pay money to Ochs?" Gen. Stiles asked.

"Well, after Wasserman quit coming I didn't sell the county much goods, and I called at Mr. Ochs' store on Milwaukee avenue to see whether or not I could continue my business with the county. Our conversation was rather brief and in substance it was about the percentage. I ought to pay for the business. We agreed upon 12 per cent., or 2 per cent. more than I had been giving Wasserman. Ochs told me that 10 per cent. was no inducement at all. At the end of that year McGarigle began to come and collect the money. During the time I was paying that amount Van Pelt used to come in and collect 3 per cent on the bills, which he claimed he ought to have because he was chairman of the Committee on Charities. He thought he was entitled to more than the other members by virtue of his position, and I had to pay him that in addition to the 12 per cent that went to the others."

"When Wren succeeded Van Pelt as chairman of the Committee on Charities," Robinson continued, "he also collected the 3 per cent. which Van Pelt had established as the regular bonus of the chairman. I paid Wren during 1886 the following amounts: March 10, $108; May 26, $161; June 28, $106; July 28, $117.55; Sept. 11, $133. I also sent him groceries, charging him with some of them, of course, but he did not pay for much. I have frequently sent him bills for the groceries, but they have always been returned unpaid. Early in 1886 Van Pelt told me that McGarigle would collect from me in the future, and I paid him. The most of this money I paid in my office, though some of it I delivered at the County Board. It was my rule, however, to go through my ledger, foot up the amounts of goods I furnished the county and then figure at the rate of 12 per cent. I would then make out a ticket, give it to my cashier, and have him put the money in an envelope and give it to me. When the collector for the board came around I would hand the envelope to him without any explanation. I did exactly the same thing in regard to the 3 percent for the Chairman of the Committee on Charities. Altogether I paid McGarigle $5,000 during 1886."

Alleged Boodleism in Sangamon County.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., July 27.—Some ugly matters are developing in the investigation by the Board of Supervisors into the affairs of county officers. In investigating ex-Sheriff Malone they have found many things that do not look all right. They have found one item of $1,058 which is said is wrong, and that the county suffers to that extent thereby. He also charged the county nearly $5,000 for washing prisoners during his term of office when prisoners performed all that service themselves, and neither the Sheriff nor the county were at any expense. It has also been developed that it has been the custom of all sheriffs to pay 50 cents a head for each tramp run in by policemen, and it is said to have been a source of large profit to several patrolmen. Several books of the Sheriff's office, bearing directly on the now pending investigation, were stolen from that office last night in some mysterious way, and it is said that they would reveal a condition similar to that of the Chicago county thieves. The Board of Supervisors have offered $300 reward for the recovery of the books and the capture of the thieves. Ex-County Clerk Wagoner of Decatur, is here as an expert investigator of the books of the county officers. Much excitement attends each stage of the investigation.

A Vigorous Denial.

ELGIN, Ill., July 27.—Annas Hathaway, the St. Paul agent alleged to have received $200 as "boodle" money from Cook county, emphatically denied it. He goes to Chicago to-day to see Grinnell. He has been agent here for five years, and his integrity has never been questioned.

No Trace of McGarigle.

CHICAGO, July 27.—The most vigorous search has failed to find the slightest trace of McGarigle, the escaped boodler. Tuesday morning two houses of his friends in Lake View were searched, but nothing suspicious could be found. All sorts of stories are afloat, among them being that a fisherman along about 11 o'clock Saturday night, as he says, saw a small rowboat put out from the shore, near McGarigle's house, and point directly toward a small steamboat that appeared in the lake early in the evening. Sometime after the small boat returned to the shore and the steamer disappeared as mysteriously as she had appeared to him earlier in the evening.

LATER.—Sheriff Matson has offered a reward of $2,500 for the return of McGarigle to him or for information that will lead to his recovery.

ST. IGNACE, Mich., July 27.—Three detectives, supposed to be from Chicago, chartered the tug Pendel and have gone in pursuit of a boat which passed down through the Straits this morning at 2 o'clock, and on which it is claimed Warden McGarigle is escaping to Canada.

KRUG FOUND GUILTY.

The Poisoner of Lucy Heidlemeyer Given Eighteen Years.

CHICAGO, July 27.—The trial of Lorenz Krug, charged with the murder of Lucy Heidlemeyer by poison, came to an end in Judge Baker's court last night, after having been in progress for fourteen days. The instructions were given and the jury retired at 4:30 o'clock. At 8:15 they returned with a verdict finding the prisoner guilty of murder and fixing his punishment at eighteen years in the penitentiary. When the verdict was announced Krug's head fell forward on his breast and his face became more ashy than usual, if possible. He was led from the court-room by two bailiffs. Attorney Joseph B. David entered the customary notice for a new trial. Three ballots were taken by the jury as to guilt, Juror Rosenthal voting for acquittal in the first two instances. As to punishment six ballots were taken, on the first two ten votes being for hanging, but Juror Rosenthal and one other gentleman refused to vote for capital punishment, and, after considerable argument, eighteen years was agreed on, as stated.

A Governor's Narrow Escape.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., July 27.—Gov. Seay was the victim of a peculiar accident yesterday afternoon. He and his private secretary, J. K. Jackson, were driving down the main thoroughfare of the city, when one of the guy wires which support the overhead cable of the electric street railway broke and fell to the ground, striking the Governor's horse. The horse, becoming entangled, was shocked and burned to death in a few minutes. Had it fallen a second later the wire would have struck the Governor and Mr. Jackson instead of the horse. The accident has created great uneasiness about the safety of the electric car system.

An Illinois Panther's Raids.

OAKLAND, Ill., July 27.—The citizens of Broadrie township, six miles west of this city, are very much scared over the presence of a large wild animal which has made its appearance in that locality. It has made a number of disastrous visits to the sheep flocks as well as being bold enough to carry off a hog, the property of Elisha Parr. It has been seen a number of times, and all say it is a panther or a tiger. A grand hunt is soon to be organized to exterminate it.

Inter-State Board Resting.

WASHINGTON, July 27.—Judge Cooley, chairman of the Inter-State Commission, left the city Tuesday for a brief visit to his home, Ann Arbor, Mich. He will return next week. Commissioner Walker left for his home in Vermont, to remain there during the recess of the Board. Commissioners Morrison and Bragg will remain here until next week. Commissioner Schoonmaker is at his home in New York.

To the convalescent it is a valuable aid in the recovery of strength, and to the debilitated, nervous invalid it yields tranquil slumber and renewed appetite—two prime factors in the restoration of vigor. Being of purely botanic origin it is free from those objections urged against mineral remedies difficult or impossible of assimilation by the system, and which impair the tone of the stomach, which the Bitters, on the contrary, strengthens and regulates. THEIR WORK IS FINISHED.

DEATH OF THE HEAD OF THE MORMON CHURCH.

President Taylor in Exile, Passes Away—Death of Dr. Standiford of Kentucky.

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, July 27.—John Taylor died in exile at 8 o'clock Monday evening. He had been ill for some time past, but it will be impossible to get at the correct facts concerning his exact state of health, owing to his being in hiding. He preached the last time in Salt Lake City on Feb. 7, 1885, and that night left his usual place of abode, the Gardo House, and has never since been seen in public. In March, 1885, he was indicted by the grand jury of the Third District court for unlawful cohabitation with four wives, and, although the officers have made frequent search for him, they have never been able to find him. As he died in hiding but few facts can be learned regarding his last illness. The Deseret Evening News, the Mormon church organ, last evening gave the first official announcement of his death by turned column rules and an obituary notice, and prior to that there were nothing but unconfirmed rumors. His funeral takes place Friday at the Tabernacle. His body will lie in state in that building from 7 a. m. to 11:30 a. m. There are no emblems of mourning displayed anywhere, even the customary crape being ommitted from the door bell of his late residence. His probable successor is Joseph F. Smith, now a counsellor to the first Presidency. Smith is a nephew of the prophet, Joseph Smith, the founder of Mormonism.

On the death of Brigham Young, John Taylor, senior of the twelve apostles of Mormondom, was chosen head of the Mormon State. He was a tall, raw-boned, heavy-featured man, displaying an emotional nature which stopped over among women, a keen eye to business, which made him the dread of outside sinners who had dealings with him, and a fanaticism which went in for building up the kingdom of saints on earth, hit or miss. He was born in England nearly eighty years ago, and came to this country an ordained Methodist preacher, locating first in Missouri. In 1837 he became a proselyte to Mormonism, and very shortly after his reception into the fold was honored by an apostleship. In 1839 he went to England, and ten years later to France as a missionary, meeting with great success in both countries, both in collecting money and gathering converts to his standard. His zeal in the faith was so great that in 1855 he established a Mormon paper in New York City, and sought to convert the inhabitants to Mormonism. It had but a small circulation and a brief existence, and four years later he went back to Utah, taking with him a new wife from Connecticut. Since then he has resided in Salt Lake City. He was of a kindlier nature than Brigham Young, and was content with fewer wives, who fared better by far than the numerous Mrs. Youngs.

DR. STANDIFORD DEAD.

The Candidate for Senator Beck's Place Passes Away.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., July 27.—Dr. E. D. Standiford died Tuesday at 4 o'clock at his home, 1022 Fourth avenue. He had been in poor health for about three months, and was seriously ill for a week before his marriage to Miss Laura Scott at Paducah, a little over two weeks ago. He would not have a physician, however, not thinking his condition serious enough, and it was not until last Friday that Drs. Yandell and Roberts were called upon to attend him. He was seriously ill from that time until yesterday morning at 5 o'clock. He had been in bed, however, since Friday week. Yesterday morning he felt much better, but was unable to be out of bed. He tried to take a little nourishment, but all that he could retain was a little boiled milk and beef-tea. He was quite cheerful however, and talked with various members of the family who were with him. Up to noon he continued to feel better, but after that time he began to grow worse. He evidently had not the slightest idea of his approaching dissolution, however, and neith did his family, nearly all of whom were with him. About 10 o'clock he grew much worse. Drs. Yandell and Roberts were sent for and remained with him until his death.

In spite of all that could be done he sank rapidly. A few minutes before 4 o'clock he called three times for "Mary," meaning his daughter, Mrs. Mary Keller. He evidently had something he wished to say to her. However, he could not make himself understood, because he was so weak.

Dr. Standiford was an active candidate for the United States Senate to succeed Mr. Beck. He was ex-president of the Louisville & Nashville railroad, vice-president of the Jeffersonville, Madison & Indianapolis Bridge company, a director of the Farmers and Drovers' bank, and a farmer on an extensive scale—in fact, one of the wealthiest men in the State. Dr. Standiford leaves a family of seven children.

Desperate Attempt at Train Robbery.

EL PASO, Texas, July 27.—News has reached here of a desperate attempt made three days ago near Laredo, Mexico, to rob a Mexican Central train. As the express was running at full speed two shots whizzed into one of the windows of a car, one barely missing the head of the conductor. It is supposed that the shots were intended to kill the engineer, but were fired by persons at some distance away who made no allowance for the speed of the train. This view is sustained by the fact that a little distance ahead of the point where the shots were fired several ties were found piled on the track at a bridge. It was evidently the intention of the train-wreckers to kill the engineer and fireman and let the train dash at full speed against the obstruction.

The way the Mexican government meets such villainy is novel but effective. All the residents of the neighborhood are "rounded up" and a confession extracted from them as to the names of the robbers. The guilty are then stood up in line against an adobe wall and a volley of bullets from a detachment of soldiers ends their existence.

Balfour on Proclaimed Counties.

LONDON, July 27.—In the House of Commons last night Mr. Balfour defended the Government's action in proclaiming the Irish counties, which he claimed were partly disturbed. The statistics of crime in Ireland he admitted, however, did not indicate a serious state of things, but the Government had been guided in obtaining knowledge as to the state of Ireland by information furnished by responsible officers in all cases except those of recorded outrages which were patent to everybody. Anyway, he could not admit that the constitutional liberties of anybody had been taken away by the Government's action. [Cheers and cries of "Oh! oh!"]

Arguing for Sharp.

NEW YORK, July 27.—Bourke Cochran began his argument in the Jacob Sharp stay-of-proceedings case Tuesday. Sharp was not present, as he had spent a very restless night and felt weak.

INFANT PRODIGIES.

What Is Being Accomplished by the Little Ones.

Willie Gordon, the 10-year-old son of a Mandan, Dak., wholesale clothing dealer, is his father's bookkeeper and clerk. He shows a surprising aptitude for business and always takes entire charge of the store when his father comes east to buy goods.

Eddie Race, a 5-year-old youngster, of Glen's Falls, is the best drummer-boy for miles around. He performs the most difficult beats without a flaw and never seems to get tired, although the drum he carries is nearly as big as his body. Eddie has never had any tuition, but gets the beats right by instinct.

Lillie Stuch, the 14-year-old daughter of the state librarian of Pennsylvania, recently composed a cradle song so difficult that her music teacher advised her to modify it. She said she had made it difficult so that she might send it to Patti, who would be able to sing it. This she did, and it was sung by the diva with great success in the West.

Miss Fannie Block, of Jackson, Miss., is said to be one of the most precocious children in the State. Though only 9 years old she reads, writes, and speaks English, German and French fluently and reads Hebrew with ease. She is now beginning to master Greek. It took her only two months to learn German, and she acquired the other languages with equal readiness.

A little negro lad, about 7 years old, living near Uniontown, Ga., is said to possess a wonderful talent for sculpture. He can take a lump of mud from the roadside and with his hands form any animal he ever saw, the proportions being perfect. He recently made out of clay a life-size statue of a dog that astonished everybody who saw it because of its extraordinary fidelity to life.

Paul Williams, the 12-year-old son of G. B. Williams, of Mendon, Mass., has neither arms nor legs—only stumps two inches long from his shoulders and similar stumps eight inches in length in place of legs. Yet he is an accomplished penman and a very good artist. He holds the pen or brush between his chin and one shoulder stump and moves it with his head. Besides all this, he is a pupil of high standing in the Mendon high school.

The Homes of England.

It is very delightful to find one's self in one of these English country residences. The house is commonly old, and has a history. It is oftentimes itself a record, like that old farmhouse my friend John Bellows wrote to me about, which chronicled half a dozen reigns by various architectural marks as exactly as if it had been an official register. "The stately homes of England," as we see them at Wilton and Longford castle, are not more admirable in their splendor than "the blessed homes in England" in their modest beauty. Everywhere one may see here old parsonages by the side of ivy-mantled churches, and the comfortable mansions where generations of country squires have lived in peace, while their sons have gone forth to fight England's battles and carry her flags of war and commerce all over the world. We in America can hardly be said to have such a possession as a family home. We encamp—not under canvas, but in fabrics of wood or more lasting material, which are pulled down after a brief occupancy by the builders, and possibly their children, or are modernized so that the former dwellers in them would not recognize their old habitations.

A Regular Pinnacle.

After leaving the railway station, which was in the middle of a prairie, the travelers drove down hill half a day and at sunset halted at Summit Heights, the new summer resort. "Great Scott!" roared the indignant tourists, "is this basin your idea of a mountain? Your prospectus says your house is 1,300 feet above the level of the sea." "So it is, gents," replied Barabbas, the host, for it was he, "so it is; above the level of the Dead Sea. That's nigh about 1,400 feet lower than the bottom of the ocean, I reckon." And when the tourists thought upon their home in the Catskills which they had abandoned in search of summer board they lifted up their voices and wept, whereupon Barabbas charged them extra bus fare for expressing emotion. And it was so.

TURKISH FUNERAL RITES.

Death and Burial in the Land of the Crescent.

If a Turk dies, or looks as if he were dead, no physician, no inspector, comes to make sure that death has really taken place; but if it has not the fact will soon be established, thanks to a procedure more efficient than all the gentle and refined means in vogue in the West to make sure that the deceased is not hoaxing his heirs.

Scarcely has the last breath been taken when the corpse is lifted up violently by vigorous arms, the clothing snatched off, laid on the flagstones in the mortuary chamber or vestibule and sprinkled with hot water, which is thrown upon it by the imam, provided with a large pail. The sprinkling is repeated two or three times, so that the family runs little danger of seeing the deceased resuscitated.

Thus scalded as a preliminary step, the body is washed and dried. Then it is bepowdered with camphor, and, after being covered with a cloth embroidered with verses from the Koran, it is exposed for several hours in the court-yard. Afterward the imam returns and accompanies the corpse to its last resting place.

The flat, covered bier is usually carried on the shoulders of friends of the deceased, or upon those of hired pall-bearers. Sometimes strangers assume this duty gratuitously, looking upon it as a pious and meritorious act. The cortege is made up only of those that carry the coffin by turns, thus relieving one another without stopping. The coffin is made of cedar, and it is seldom varnished, but it is covered with a rug or shawl, and there is placed at the head a turban or a fez if the deceased is a male.

The procession always moves hastily, not for the purpose of getting rid of the dismal burden, but to hasten the moment when deceased shall enjoy eternal repose; for the Mussulman believes that the soul is restless and unhappy as long as the corpse is unburied. This is why three or four hours only elapse between death and burial.

On arriving at the cemetery the imam so places the bier that the face of the deceased is turned towards Mecca; he then approaches the brink of the grave and utters a very long prayer, the conclusion of which is as follows: "Draw near Mounkir and Nekir, angels of death and ministers of Allah. Great and blessed God, we humbly beseech Thee to make the earth light for thy servant. May he find grace and mercy with Thee. Amen."

According to the Koran the deceased is the owner of his grave in perpetuity, and the objectionable system of sepulture in rotation is unknown to the Mussulmans; and in Constantinople, in Eyeoub and Scutari, the room occupied by cemeteries is almost as extensive as that covered by dwellings. Within recent years it has been found necessary, in order to open roads that have been much needed, to curtail and even suppress some of the cemeteries, but it required an express order from the Sultan, which made the ulemas utter the wail of bigots.

RUNNING THE GAUNTLET.

The Exploits and Ordeals Performed and Borne by Simon Kenton.

The first pioneers were so successful in holding their settlements that others hastened to join them, attracted by the abundance of the game and the fertility of the soil, says a writer in Harper's Magazine, describing the early settling of Kentucky. To some, no doubt, the element of constant adventure was a great inducement and fully were they gratified. Some like Simon Kenton, as a hunter and woodsman second only to Boone, seemed to seek hazard. He it was whose desperate ride, lashed to the back of an untamed horse, was the true original of Byron's Mazeppa. Unlike Boone, Kenton excited in his Indian foes the most exasperated feelings of vengeance. Aside from wounds received in fight, he was several times brought to the very verge of death while a prisoner in the Indians' hands. On one occasion he was struck apparently dead with a tomahawk that clove his shoulder through the collar bone; three several times he was bound to the stake to die by fire and as often as eight times was he compelled to "run the gauntlet." None of this generation will ever know in its true significance the horror of that word. There is probably now no man living who has "run the gauntlet" as an Indian prisoner. The venerable and reverand Thomas P. Dudley of Lexington, Ky., now approaching his 100th year, was sentenced, but reprieved. His comrades suffered the ordeal, while he in mere whim was ransomed for a pony and a keg of whisky. The Indians ranged themselves in two lines, between which the prisoner was compelled to run for his life, eluding as best he could the blows of tomahawks and war clubs that were aimed at him in his flight. Sometimes good fortune or activity saved the prisoner. Sometimes the Indians would in mere caprice use long sticks instead of deadly weapons, and in a few rare instances pure courage would save the victim. Kenton on one occasion won the applause of the head chiefs of the Wyandots, who interfered to save his life from their infuriated warriors. No sooner was he unbound to commence the fatal race than he seized a war-club and dashed down the line, striking in desperation at every warrior armed with hatchet or club. Though covered with wounds, he reached the goal alive, still brandishing the weapon with which he had fought his way. The exploit is without a parellel in Indian experience; it won their admiration, and for that time saved him.

He Took the Warning.

The father of Gen. E—— of Virginia had a body-servant who was an inveterate toper. His master tried every means in his power to break him of drinking. Persuasions was useless, advice wasted, and whipping but temporary in effect.

Sam had been to a dance, had imbibed freely, and returned home at break of day and at breakfast was rather the worse for wear. His master thought to try the effect of frightening him by apparently reading from the morning paper the death of a drunkard in B——.

"Spontaneous combustion! Horrible death of a drunkard! Last night Michael McGinnis was in a beastly state of intoxication; he retired to his room, and in blowing out the candle his breath caught fire. He was entirely consumed, and nothing was left of him but the ashes in his shoes."

Sam stood with eyes agog and hands raised. "'Fore Gord, 'fore Gord, Marse John, dis nigger neber blow out a candle ez long ez he lib, suah!"

How He Will Fix Them.

Nebraska Farmer—These railroads are getting entirely too numerous and impudent, but I'll fix 'em.

Railroad Superintendent—Well, what do you propose to do about it?

Nebraska Farmer—Well, you see, they run so blamed slow that I've brought suit for damage against 'em for shadin' the crops.

In Brief and to The Point.

The human digestive apparatus is one of the most complicated and wonderful things in existance. It is easily put out of order.

Greasy food, tough food, bad cookery, mental worry, late hours, irregular hours, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics.

But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in reforming this sad business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy.

Remember:—No happiness without health. But Green's August Flower brings health and happiness to the dyspeptic. Ask your druggist for a bottle. Seventy-five cents.

For Scrofula Impoverished Blood and General Debility.

Scott's Emulsion of Pure Cod Liver Oil, with Hypophosphites, has no equal in the whole realm of Medicine. Read the following: "I gave one bottle of Scott's Emulsion to my own child for Scrofula, and the effect was miraculous." —O. F. GRAY, M. D., White Hill, Ind.

A QUEER IDEA.

Colored Georgians Literally Obeying "Seek and Ye Shall Find."

ATLANTA, Ga., July 27.—There is a little colored church on the Green's Ferry road, leading out from Atlanta, midway between the Chattahooche river and Sweetwater creek, the congregation of which is now in a perturbed condition. The brethren are primitive Baptists, greatly interested in the true mode of entering the water and zealous for the washing of feet. Lately there has sprung up in the congregation a powerful exhorter named Simon Brown. One day two weeks ago Simon, who is an industrious farmer, was in the field weeding the cotton, when all of a sudden the Scriptural injunction "Seek and ye shall find" took complete possession of him. That night he could not sleep for thinking of it, and the next day, which was foot-washing day in the little church, he appeared there and announced that he had a very important charge to deliver; that Christ had commanded sinners to seek and they should find; that search should be instituted, to the abandonment of every other duty.

While he was speaking the Governor's Horse Guards of Atlanta passed by on their way to Camp Grady, in Douglass county. The sight of armed men on horseback, so unexpected and never witnessed there before, had a thrilling effect upon the worshipers. Brown referred to it as a divine manifestation, and urged his hearers to seek at once and not to stop until they had found the pearl of great price. For ten days members of the congregation have left plows idle and houses empty, walking around and looking in the hidden places for the treasure. Efforts have been made by the farmers who need the work of these people to get them to return, but it is useless. They declare that unless they find religion they will be lost, and that the only way to find it is to look for it without ceasing. The women are wilder than the men. They go down in old wells and fish around to see what is in the bottom. They turn over stones and logs. look under houses, and even during the long hours of the night strange figures carrying lanterns can be seen moving about in the forest which fringes the Chattahoochee, looking for the object of their search.

Brown is looked upon as an oracle, and every evening about sundown the superstitious people gather about him to listen to his latest revelations. Yesterday, one of the white citizens threatened to have Brown tried for lunacy, with the result of nearly losing his life. The maddened worshipers declared that he was an agent of the devil, who sought to destroy the people's faith. There appears to be no diminution of their zeal.

Matters in the Coke Region.

PITTSBURG, Pa., July 27.—The coke operators held a big meeting Tuesday. They discussed plans for meeting the many problems that they have to solve as the result of the coke strike. There is such a scarcity of cars which have drifted into other branches of trade, and so few contracts drilled up that they say it may become necessary to shut down some of the ovens. The question of reorganizing the coke syndicate is being discussed, though nothing definite has been decided upon. The greater portion of the cokers are now at work. The Morrell or Cambria works started up Tuesday. The Pinkerton detectives are preparing to leave within a few days. Everything is quiet in these regions.

WEALTH OF THE PRESIDENTS.

James Monroe died in New York insolvent.

Buchanan left over $250,000 to his nephews and nieces.

Adams was poor, but by his wise, able management he never suffered want.

Fillmore left the White House a poor man, but by a second marriage became wealthy.

Pierce did not do as well. Fifty thousand dollars was his limit, with no one to inherit it.

Of the earlier Presidents, Washington was the wealthiest. At his death his estate was valued at $800,000.

When Jefferson entered the White House he was a wealthy man, but he lost his property and died insolvent.

John Tyler went to the White House a poor man, but managed to save enough out of his salary to live in comfort.

President Arthur was a very high feeder, and spent a great deal of money on his table, and managed to save nothing.

President Cleveland will probably not be able to save more than $100,000 out of his whole term, if he saves that much.

Andrew Jackson was counted a rich man in his day. The Hermitage, which he left to his adopted son, is now the property of the State.

Mrs. Hayes ran the financial end of the house during Hayes' administration, and that she is a financier is proved by the amount saved out of his salary.

Madison was wealthy when he became President, and left a handsome estate, which Mrs. Madison's son, Payne Todd, squandered, and left her a poor woman.

Garfield was not in office long enough to save much money. He left about $40,000, and the gifts Mrs. Garfield has received have made her a wealthy woman.

Grant never saved much of his salary, but the generous gifts of his friends made him independent. He lost all in the Grant-Ward failure. The sale of his book has placed his wife in an affluent position.

Thomas Tasser, a writer of the Sixteenth century, first said: "Better late than never," "Look ere you leap," and "The stone that is rolling can gather no moss."

Reference, G. W. Latimer, druggist, Richmond, Va.

I was troubled with Salt Rheum for a number of years, so that the skin came entirely off one of my hands from the finger tips to the wrist. I tried remedies and doctors' prescriptions to no purpose until I commenced taking Cuticura Remedies, and now I am entirely cured. E. T PARKER, 379 Northampton, Boston

Catarrh to Consumption.

Catarrh in its destructive force stands next to and undoubtedly leads on to consumption. It is therefore singular that those afflicted with this fearful disease should not make it the object of their lives to rid themselves of it. Deceptive remedies concocted by ignorant pretenders to medical knowledge have weakened the confidence of the great majority of all sufferers in advertized remedies. They become resigned to a life of misery, rather than torture themselves with doubtful palliatives.

But this will never do. Catarrh must be met at every stage and combated with all our might. In many cases the disease has assumed dangerous symptoms. The bones and cartilage of the nose, the organs of hearing, of seeing and of tasting so affected as to be useless, the uvula so elongated the throat so inflamed and irritated as to produce a constant and distressing cough.

Sanford's Radical Cure meets every phase of Catarrh, from a simple head cold to the most loathsome and destructive stages. It is local and constitutional. Instant in relieving, permanent in curing, safe, economical and never-failing.

BRIEFLETS.

—Will Milwaukee street ever be paved?

—Mr. R. P. Young is building a new residence on Fifth avenue, second ward.

A street car full of Guards went to the fair grounds last evening to practice firing.

—The Daughters of Rebecca Sewing Circle will picnic at Crystal Springs, Saturday, July 30.

—Wisconsin Lodge No. 14, I. O. O. F., occupy Odd Fellows' hall this evening—regular meeting.

—The Racine water works were completed yesterday. The date for testing the works has not been decided.

—Badger Council No. 223, Royal Arcanum, assembles in regular semi-monthly meeting this evening—lodge room in the Lappin block, East Milwaukee street.

—A party consisting of Messrs. Ed. Fifield and Bob Bostwick, and Misses Eva Nash and Nellie Smith, attended the dance given by Miss Lizzie Tinker at Clinton last evening.

—Ice Cream Soda still has an increased sale and common soda is no where now. Heimstreet keeps one clerk busy handing it out. It is nice and no mistake. Have you tried it yet? if not, drop in and get a glass.

—Frank Sherer carried off the honors at the Angleworm shoot last night, H. G. Carter coming next, and F. P. Stannard third. Out of a possible twenty, Sherer made nineteen, Carter seventeen and Stannard sixteen.

—The Rock County Sunday School Association will hold a meeting at Indian Ford next Sabbath, July 31. Services in town hall commencing at 10:30 a. m. A cordial invitation is extended to all interested in the work.

—Racine Journal: W. E. Buckingham, one of Racine's most esteemed business men, has located at Janesville and opened a boot and shoe store. The Journal takes pleasure in recommending Mr. Buckingham to the citizens of Janesville as an upright, honest and good citizen in every respect.

Yesterday Miss E. L. Williams received a telegram from Chicago, calling for two lady short hand writers to fill positions in business offices, and this morning sent Mrs. J. P. Bullock and Miss May Norris to fill the order. Miss Williams is meeting with great success in the conduct of her school of short hand.

—"It made me smile," said a well known east sider, "to see the look of virtuous indignation that the common council put on when Mayor Winans told them about Sunday liquor selling. Now I happen to know that at least four of the aldermen and one city official spent las Sunday morning in a saloon. I piloted them in myself."

—Experienced road builders claim that Milwaukee street cannot be paved before next year, on account of the laying of the water pipe. The earth over the water mains should have been packed from the bottom as fast as the earth was replaced in the trench to make pavement laying possible. It is claimed that nothing remains now but to wait for the spring rains.

—To-night the local branch of the Royal Adelphi will be organized. The order has met with a great deal of favo here because of its system of idemnities. Payments are made for sickness as well as for injuries, one thousand dollar policy holders, when sick, being entitled to five dollars a week, and others in proportion. The amounts drawn are deducted from the amount payable after death.

—Mr. W. Q. Barnes and Mrs. J. A. McDonald were married last evening at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Henry Groat, Cornelia street, second ward. The ceremony took place at half past nine o'clock, the Rev. Joseph Waite, of All Souls church, officiating. None but relatives and interested parties were present. The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Barnes will wish them a long and prosperous future.

—"Perhaps the Gazette is not aware of the fact that beer is sold by the keg on Sunday, and taken out to the woods and drank, which causes no small share of Sunday drunks."—Recorder.

Oh, yes, we are. It is this that Mayor Winans says must be stopped, and it is for the suppression of this kind of Sunday liquor selling as well as the selling in the saloons, that the Gazette seeks to enlist the sympathy and support of the Recorder.

—The members of Olive Branch Lodge A. O. U. W., are sparing no pains to make their picnic at Crystal Springs tomorrow one of the most enjoyable of the season. Smith & Corliss' orchestra furnish the music for dancing, afternoon and evening. A variety of games will be introduced by the committee for both old and young. The boat will leave for the Springs at 8:30 a. m., and at intervals of one hour and a half throughout the day. Tickets for round trip, 25 cents. Some member of the committee of arrangements will be in charge the boat throughout the day.

—Last evening Mr. Chas. Osgood, of the town of Rock, drove a span of heavy horses attached to a platform wagon, into the city, hitching his team near the Recorder office while he attended the Salvation Army meeting. Soon after a couple of kids named Rook and Means, took the team and enjoyed a drive around the city. The team being missed, it was surmised that they had been stolen, and Sheriff Ward, Marshal Hogan, and Constable Acheson started out in search, Marshal Hogan and Sheriff Ward continuing their search to the city, while constable Acheson drove down to Afton. The boys were soon to take the team and drive away by Mrs. Mills, who lives close by where the team was hitched. After driving around the city the kids were captured on West Milwaukee street, by Mr. Vet. Gould. The Means boy skipped out, but Rook gave himself up without trouble. The boys being so young probably nothing will be done with them further than a reprimand.

—Not being upon the police force of the city, we are not over anxious to become an informer nor a spy regarding the enforcement of the Sunday liquor law, yet should the Recorder insist upon the Gazette divulging the information in this matter at least two person from the editorial room of the Recorder office will have an opportunity to appear as witnesses. As was said in the Gazette yesterday, our only desire is to see the Sunday law and the law regarding minors frequenting saloons and drinking beer etc., enforced. The Gazette has no desire to wage a war against any class, except they who disobey the law. For law breakers it has no sympathy. The admission of the Recorder that "Many times the back doors are opened to air out the place," is too thin an excuse for any other than a mind befouled by the many odors contained in such places. It is no more necessary to open a back door of a saloon for "airing" than it is other doors where other business is carried on week days. Yet it furnishes an excuse for such weaklings, but an excuse which will not be received in court. Now, Mr. Recorder, come out squarely, and either advocate the closing of the doors, or give us some better reason for "the airing process."

We ought not to be too anxious to encourage untried innovation, in cases of doubtful improvement. Thousands of testimonials of its virtues. 50 cents per bottle. By druggists.

—Chief Justice Worrick is very busy to-day with a lawsuit from Clinton.—Oleson vs Wyman—Attorneys Nolan, of Janesville, and Shunk, of Sharon are doing the pleading. It seems hard on some of these people to have to come to a temperance town to get law dealt out to them.

DROWNED IN A CREEK.

Sad Death Of A Young Lady Bather Narrow Escape of Others.

Help Reaches the Spot Just Too Late—A Pleasure Trip Sorrowfully Ended.

How the Accident Happened—The Coroners Inquest and its Verdict.

Little else was talked about last night but the drowning of fifteen year old Leila Spader. She and her sister Erlina Spader had gone with Miss Cora Parker to a creek nearly two miles from Miss Parker's house. There they improvised a tent from shawls and prepared to go in bathing.

Ed. Parker, a sixteen year old boy, who accompanied them was already in the water as they stepped from the tent. A moment later he heard a scream and looking around, saw all of the girls struggling in the creek, beyond their depths. He hurried in and was instantly clutched by the two who were nearest. These were his sister and Erlina Spader. Leila was farther out in the stream. Young Parker managed to swim far enough so that his sister could reach shore but before he went farther his strength gave out. He could use but one hand, and was almost sinking when Thomas Eldon ran over from an adjoining field. A fork handle was stretched out, but the boy seemed unable to reach it. Several times he tried, but each time went under without succeeding. At last a wagon seat was thrown out, and by means of this the two were brought to shore, terribly exhausted.

All this time Leila had been under water, sinking just as Mr. Edden arrived. None of those on the spot except young Parker, were swimmers, and it seemed as though nothing could be done. A few moments later, however, G. F. Gallup, a young man visiting with Mr. J. Aiken heard the cries for help and ran up. He plunged in after the body but was obliged to dive several times, not finding it until life was already gone. The body was at once taken to the home of Mrs. Sumner Parker where the young ladies had been spending the summer. There a coroner's inquest was held by Justice M. S. Prichard, the jurors being M. A. Ott, H. A. Stone, N. N. Jackman, F. L. Cutts, M. J. Aikin and J. B. Day.

Dr. L. J. Barrows was the first witness sworn. He had examined the body and found that Miss Spader came to her death by drowning. No bruises or evidence of anything but a simple case of drowning could be seen. He found a perfect physical and muscular development. Under the circumstances witness did not think it necessary to make a post mortem examination.

Dr. Q. O. Sutherland said he had made a careful examination of the body; had found no marks of external violence the body being in perfect condition, every evidence showing that she came to her death by drowning.

Edward Parker testified as follows: I reside in the town of LaPrairie; am sixteen years old; knew deceased in her lifetime; she resided in Chicago; Miss Cora Parker, Miss Erlina Spader, deceased and myself started to go in bathing back of Mr. Morgan Aiken's place, in a creek one or two rods wide, about seven feet deep; all went in bathing; my sister started to wade across; I was in the middle of the stream; looked back and saw my sister was over her depth and started back and brought her to the other side; both the other girls started the same time I did, but they did not get to her but got beyond their depth; I turned around and tried to get them; I caught hold of Miss Erlina but could not get her out; I remained in the water two or three minutes, until Mr. Thomas Edden came with a fork and pulled both of us out; I did not see deceased after I came out, as she had gone down; think she was in the water about ten minutes; Mr G. F. Gallup came when my sister called for help; he got the body out; the place where we were bathing is about two miles from here; it was about a quarter to 4 o'clock; I went after mother as soon as they got Leila out.

Mr. G. F. Gallup swore: I was in the house of my uncle, Mr. Aiken; heard him call that some one was drowning. I ran to the branch and as soon as I got there, jumped in, diving down several times; finally found the body of this young lady and brought it up to the bank. She was dead when I brought her out. The creek is ten feet wide and from seven to ten feet deep, a little deeper in places. The shore is bluff. She was five feet from shore, in the middle of the stream. It was about five minutes after I heard the alarm before I got her out.

Miss Cora B. Parker sworn: Knew Leila Spader; knew her three or four weeks. She resided in Chicago. Leila and myself went into the water, and we thought it was not so deep but that we could walk across. The last thing I remembered, I lost my footing and went under the water; the next thing, some one pushed me up on the bank. She had hold of my hand. I had started up towards the house when they took her out. It was between four and five when we reached home.

A verdict of accidental drowning was rendered.

The drowned girl came here from Chicago three weeks ago. Her father, J. V. Spader, was called by telegraph, and reached here at two o'clock this morning. He was accompanied by Miss Spader's aunt, both appearing to be almost heartbroken. It was arranged to have the remains taken to Chicago immediately, and the family left, therefore, on the 12:30 train. What promised to be a pleasant summer had, for them been turned into sadness. As they stood on the platform of the Northwestern depot this noon there were signs of deep grief that could not be mistaken, and those standing near talked with hushed voices, seemingly conscious that they were in the presence of death.

OBITUARY

MARY CODY.

Miss Mary Cody died this morning at the home of her parents in the fourth ward. Deceased was taken sick about four weeks ago, with typhoid fever, since which time she had been gradually failing, and despite the best medical treatment, and care, the disease was uncontrollable, and the spark of life faded away in the early dawn of a bright day, surrounded by the family circle, of which she had so recently been an honored member. Miss Cody had until a few months ago been employed in the Thoroughgood box factory, and spent her leisure time in studying short hand and type-writing. By hard study, she had succeeded in graduating in her chosen occupation, stenography. She was twenty-four years old; was a lady of many excellent traits of character, and her bright, cheerful manner, made her a favorite with all.

The funeral will be held at St. Patrick's church at eight o'clock to-morrow morning, and the remains will be taken to Whitewater for burial, the family formerly residing there.

"DON'T BE A CRANK."

How He Thinks They Can Avoid It—Gossip of the Assembly.

LAKESIDE, July 27, '87.

The last two days have been all confusion and hubbub here, but finally order has been brought out of chaos, and all are now settled.

Since daylight on Monday morning people have been fairly flocking onto the grounds until at the lowest estimate 2,000 people are tenting on the grounds.

The opening exercises of the Assembly were held yesterday afternoon after which we listened to a brilliant lecture by the Rev. Dr. James Buckley, D. D., editor of the Christian Advocate, upon the subject of "Cranks or How to go Mad." The doctor held the attention of his vast audience for nearly two hours, he being frequently interrupted by bursts of applause. In closing he gave seven rules which, if kept he said, would prevent one from going mad. They were

1. General health—don't neglect it.
2. Don't carry all your eggs in one basket, or in other words, don't invest your earthly all in any one thing so if that fails you will be penniless.
3. Change of thought—never read or study the same thing more than two hours consecutively at one time.
4. Travel—travel and see all you can.
5. Don't be over sensitive. If some one thinks your hat is last year's style or your coat a little off, don't for mercy sake worry yourself to death about it. Don't be over concerned about any adverse criticism regarding yourself.
6. Consider your limitations. Don't try to do something you know very well you cannot. If you have a bass voice, sing bass and leave tenor alone or if your voice was meant to be an alto, for heavens sake leave soprano severely alone.
7. Thank God for your reason.

In the evening the Madison city band discoursed some excellent music on the grounds after which the Imperial quartette, of Chicago, entertained fully 2500 people in the tabernacle for an hour and a half. They all are fine musicians and their voices blend together wonderfully. They give several more more concerts during the session and may be sure of an appreciative audience whenever they appear.

Janesville's delegation has been reinforced by Lou Croft and family, Misses Jennie Carle, Cobb and Geddes, W. B. Noyes and wife, Hon. Jas. Sutherland, Mr. Coggswell and children, Mr. J. E. Dennison and wife. Hastily,
